Adirondack style meets Mission in this one-floor home built by Waldron Builders. The community has 49 lots and is in phase two of its development.

This unusual ranch is decorated by Nicole Skinner of Designer Interiors of Ballston, who felt the rustic nature of the Adirondacks would meld well with the client's existing Mission furniture. "I wanted to make it cozy," she says.

"You don't always have to have full-fledged Adirondack style," she says of the choices. The Adirondack furniture is custom-made by L. Post Rustic Furniture, based in Ausable Forks. The Mission furniture is from Stickley, Audi in Albany. The painting over the mantel is by Frankie Flores of Saratoga.
